

Dave Gallon

Managing Director

Felxigo

As Managing Director for the US, Dave Gallon leads flexigo's US operations and supports its mission to solve work-related transportation challenges by delivering a full suite of financially and environmentally responsible mobility services via an innovative platform for corporations and campuses. Dave has previously served as the COO of MoceanLab - Hyundai's future mobility laboratory and think tank - and in executive roles at Toyota, B Capital Group, The Trium Group, and New Roads School, as well as running his own consulting practice, DGZ Consulting Group. Dave has spent the last 20+ years advising, consulting and guiding corporate culture change and strategy development across the mobility industry built on the foundations of diversity, social equity, and positive environmental impact. He has also completed a fellowship and continues to serve as an Advisory Board Member to the Aspen Institute's First Movers Fellowship Program for corporate intrapreneurs. Connecting his expertise and passion for creating a better future for individuals and communities, Dave has also served on the boards of a number of education-focused non-profit organizations. Dave has a BA from Williams College and an MBA from the UCLA Anderson School of Management. While at both institutions, he represented his school in athletic endeavors, as a community volunteer, and through a number of student leadership positions. He currently lives in Los Angeles with his wife, daughter, and their two rescue dogs, with occasional visits from his college-aged son.