

Psychology 121-C Oral Presentation Evaluation:

Group Topic: _____

Date of Presentation: _____

Students: _____

	Low	High	Total Points (4 each)
Introduction	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Too few or too many articles.• Weak presentation of thesis	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Comprehensive but selective.• Clear presentation of thesis.
Methods	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Recruitment procedures vague; sample information weak.• Poor presentation of coding of major themes.	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Clear description of recruitment procedures and sample. Strong presentation of coding of major themes.
Results	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Confusing main findings of research presented.• Little relation to research question or thesis.	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Concise presentation of major findings.• Direct relation to research question or thesis.
Discussion & Conclusion	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Poor synthesis of results• Little analysis of findings.• Significance unclear• No recommendations.	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Insightful, compelling analysis/synthesis of research.• Significance and recommendations clearly stated.
Quality of Presentation	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Little eye contact.• Does not appear to have practiced, repetitive material. Slides difficult to read, have grammatical errors, not attractive.	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Good eye contact. Obviously practiced, not repetitive.• Slides clear, free from errors, attractive.

Total Points: _____/20