Assigned chapters should be read and assigned problems should be prepared prior to each class meeting so that students are able to participate in class discussions and seek additional assistance in understanding the text material or the solution of assigned problems. This course tests students understanding and knowledge of the financial theory and practice presented in the text and classroom discussions with problem based exams and quizzes. During the semester there will be five unannounced quizzes and two mid-term exams. There is a comprehensive final exam that will be given on the date and at the time determined by the University Final Exam schedule.

Final Examination or Evaluation

The final exam for this course consists of problems similar in structure and content to problems assigned at the end of each of the text chapters and is cumulative in its coverage of the assigned text chapters.

Grading Information

Grading of exams is based on the student achieving the correct answers to the exam problems presented on the mid-term exams, quizzes and final exam. If students show their work partial credit may be assigned if there is sufficient evidence that the student's approach to solving the problem is correct and that a mathematical error or formula component error resulted in an incorrect answer.
