Course Description

English 1B is the second course in SJSU's two-semester lower-division composition sequence. Beyond providing repeated practice in planning and executing essays, and broadening and deepening students' understanding of the genres, audiences, and purposes of college writing, English 1B differs from English 1A in its emphasis on persuasive and critical writing (with less attention paid to the personal essay), its requirement for fewer but longer essays, and its introduction to writing informed by research. Students will develop sophistication in writing analytical, argumentative, and critical essays; a mature writing style appropriate to university discourse; reading abilities that will provide an adequate foundation for upper-division work; proficiency in basic library research skills and in writing papers informed by research; and mastery of the mechanics of writing.

Prerequisites: Passage of Written Communication 1A (C or better) or approved equivalent.

Course Goals and Student Learning Objectives

Building on the college-level proficiencies required in English 1A, students shall achieve the ability to write complete essays that demonstrate advanced proficiency in all of the following:

- Clear and effective communication of meaning.

- An identifiable focus (argumentative essays will state their thesis clearly and will show an awareness, implied or stated, of some opposing point of view).
- An appropriate voice that demonstrates an awareness of audience and purpose.
- Careful attention to review and revision.
- Effective and correct use of supporting materials, including independent research (e.g., quoting, paraphrasing, summarizing, and citing sources);
- Effective analysis, interpretation, evaluation, and synthesis of ideas encountered in multiple readings.
- Effective organization and development of ideas at paragraph and essay levels.
- Appropriate and effective sentence structure and diction.
- Command of conventional mechanics (e.g., punctuation, spelling, reference, agreement).

Student Learning Objectives:

SLO 1: Students shall write complete essays that demonstrate the ability to refine the competencies established in Written Communication 1A.

SLO 2: Students shall write complete essays that demonstrate the ability to use (locate, analyze, and evaluate) supporting materials, including independent library research, and identify key concepts and terms that describe the information needed.

SLO 3: Students shall write complete essays that demonstrate the ability to select efficient and effective approaches for accessing information utilizing an appropriate investigative method or information retrieval system.

SLO 4: Students shall write complete essays that demonstrate the ability to synthesize ideas encountered in multiple readings.

SLO 5: Students shall write complete essays that demonstrate the ability to incorporate principles of design and communication to construct effective arguments.

SLO 6: Students shall write complete essays that demonstrate the ability to identify and discuss issues related to censorship and freedom of speech.

Assignments and Grading Policy

- Grading: A-F.
- Grading Policy: The Department of English reaffirms its commitment to the differential grading scale as defined in the official SJSU Catalog ("The Grading System"). Grades issued must represent a full range of student performance: A excellent; B = above average; C = average; D below average; F = failure.
- Grading Criteria for Written Work:

- The “A” essay is organized and well developed. It demonstrates a clear understanding of the topic and fulfillment of the assignment. Paragraphs are fully developed with interesting details, lively vocabulary, syntactic complexity, and graceful transitions. This paper is pleasing to the eye and virtually free of mechanical errors.
- The “B” essay develops controlling ideas and supports them with vivid, specific examples, but it may lack the sentence variety and graceful transitional phrases characteristic of an “A” paper. The “B” essay may contain minor grammatical or mechanical flaws, however, it demonstrates overall competence.
- The “C” essay is logically organized, but usually general and bland. The paragraphs need controlling ideas and specific examples. The vocabulary and syntactical complexity is less mature, making the essay less effective. The essay may contain a distracting number of mechanical and grammatical flaws.
- The “D” essay is poorly organized and generally unclear. It has inappropriate or inadequate examples, is noticeably superficial and simplistic, or it contains serious mechanical and grammatical problems.
- The “F” essay is similar to the “D,” but is more consistent in mechanical errors and less logical. It is generally unclear and shows little real effort.

Written Work, Required

- ◆ You will write nine essays total: one (1) baseline (not graded), Three (3) out-of-class essays; three (3) in-class; one (1) major research paper; and a Final (1) Portfolio/Reflection essay. You must complete all nine essays to be eligible to pass the course. According to department guidelines, you must write a minimum of 8000 words, not including the notebook writing, quizzes, or any informal assignments.
- ◆ Writing informs, influences, and/or persuades, and each of us is capable of altering the space around us through clear writing directed to a specific audience for a distinct purpose.
- ◆ For all outside-of-class writing use Times New Roman, 12-point font, in MLA format (we will go over MLA format in class). You will be actively involved in peer editing. Essays without peer-review will lose credit for that portion of the assignment.

- Reflection: Every completed in-class and out-of-class essay requires a one-page reflection that discusses the student's self-evaluation of that paper's merits and faults.
- Research Essay: English 1B shall include an introduction to the library and to basic research strategies, including locating materials, using them effectively (e.g., quoting, paraphrasing, summarizing), and citing them properly. A traditional research paper or a series of short essays in which library research informs the student's position or thesis is required. As part of this requirement, a university librarian shall lead at least one class session of English 1B. Each student will write a research essay on a topic of his/her choosing based on guidelines provided by the instructor. The Research Essay—with all its component parts—alone is 20% of the overall course grade.
- Final Portfolio Assignment: Instead of a final exam, you will write a 12-1400-word critical reflection at the end of the class. Think of it as a scientific study of your progress as a writer over the next four months. Remember, writing is a process. Collecting your work and then reflecting on that work is part of the process. The final assignment is designed to get you thinking about your specific challenges, your strategies for improvement, your successes and failures, and your goals for the future. Every writer, no matter how accomplished, has room for improvement. This assignment is your culminating experience. This course does not have a final exam—We will not be taking the Department English 1B exam. The Portfolio Assignment alone is 10% of your grade.
- Together, ALL the essays: three out-of-class, three in-class, research essay, and portfolio—including all required drafts, revisions, brainstorming and peer reviews—will account for 84% of your overall grade.
- Misc Writing, Short Quizzes & In-class Writing: Quizzes, announced and unannounced, will test your knowledge of the assigned readings. Quizzes and in-class writing assignments, Found Poetry, Reading Responses and editorial assignments will account for 4% of the total grade.
- The Composition Notebook: The notebook is your most valuable tool in the class. You will use it to record ideas from the reading, copy favorite lines, jot down interesting words, record notes about writing, and paste scraps of writing that you collect, and store reference handouts about writing. The notebook will include ideas and reflections that will become the backbone of your essays, portfolios, and other writing. You will need to bring your notebook to class. I will collect your notebooks at regular intervals. The Composition Notebook accounts for 4% of your overall grade.

- SLOs

- SLO 1 & 5: Every essay. SLO 2 & 3 all out-of-class essays and research essay. SLO 4: in-class essays 2 and 3, and all out-of-class. SLO 6 in-class #4. Save all of your written work: You will need it for the portfolio at the end of the semester.

Reading, Required

- Reading assignments from What Matters in America, our other books, and handouts will challenge you to think about how you can become a more effective writer. The readings must be completed prior to the day they are assigned. Reading assignments provide background and support for lecture material. Reading assignments will be graded directly via quizzes and reading responses and indirectly when assigned as resources for specific essays. Grades for Reading Responses and quizzes on the readings account for the majority of the 4% assigned to Reading Responses.

Participation

Participation will be evaluated based on in-class interaction during discussions, student's self-evaluation, peer evaluations from group work, and outside participation, which involves bringing to the classes' attention an article or news item relevant to readings from the text or classroom discussion. Participation scores will be reduced for using electronics during class. Participation will account for 4% of the total grade.

Late and Missing Papers

Assignments are due in class on the date listed on the syllabus. Late essays will be assessed a penalty of 25%, 50%, and 100% per day late. Assignments generated in class may not be made up.

Extra Credit

In general, extra credit is not offered. All the assignments listed are required. However, several "release" assignments may be available. A release assignment can replace an existing, missed, assignment, but will not add anything "extra." Any release assignment authorized will require writing at least as much as the original it replaces, and will probably require more.

Final Course Grade: Every assignment is issued a maximum number of points possible and then placed in its appropriate category on a computer grading program. For example, Reading Responses receive a maximum of 10 points, and all of the Reading Responses together are worth 4% of the total grade. If 10 Reading Responses earned a total of 940 points, that would be 94% of the 4% for that category. Many assignments have multiple components; for example, the Research Essay consists of a Research Proposal, Annotated Bibliography, Field Research Report, Rough draft, Final draft—EACH component has its own point value and is graded individually; therefore, the WHOLE Research Essay grade, worth 20% of the total course, is comprised of many separate pieces. Although the essays are the most important part of the grade, every assignment, small or large, contributes to the process, and, therefore, requires your full attention.

- Final Grades in Percentages: A+ = 100-98; A = 97-94; A- = 93-90; B+ = 89-88; B = 87-84; B- = 83-80; C+ = 79-78; C = 77-74; C- = 73-70; D+ = 69-68; D = 67-60; F = 59 or less.
